

TRANSFORMATION BY THE NUMBERS

COMPILED BY GEOFF WILLIAMS

The amount of money future rival Microsoft invested in Apple in 1997, when the company was on the verge of bankruptcy and Steve Jobs, co-founder of Apple, needed an infusion of cash to help transform the company from producing PCs to restructuring the entire product line. We hear the company is doing pretty well now.

“IF WE HADN'T IMPROVED THE RELIABILITY OF HARLEY-DAVIDSON PRODUCTS, THE COMPANY WOULDN'T BE HERE TODAY.”

— Richard Teerlink, in 2003, commenting on the turnaround the company had after 1982 when it was $90 million in debt.

“

Transformation of an enterprise begins with a sense of crisis or urgency. No institution will go through fundamental change unless it believes it is in deep trouble and needs to do something different to survive.

$2.6 billion

Ford Motor Company’s profits in the second quarter of 2014. CEO Alan Mulally transformed Ford by simplifying the company’s organizational structure, cutting operating costs, and improving efficiency — as well as offering a simpler, more innovative product line.

$83 MILLION

Amount Ford Motor Company was losing in 2008 — each day. But the company was already working on a comeback. Mulally was named CEO in 2006 and that year mortgaged all of Ford’s assets for $23.6 billion in loans. Believed to be a desperate move at the time, it’s now seen as a shrewd one.
